

Dear Jesus,

You are not slumbering unaware. You know my storm of _____.
To you this is not a worry, because you have all power, and you know the ending.
But I do not, Lord. I do not have all power, and I do not know the ending. Please help me to turn this storm over to you. Help me let you handle all of the details, all of the decisions, every last part of it. I plead with you to remove my fear and to give me faith in you, the One who calms the storms. I give it all to you.

In your name, Jesus, I pray.

Amen.
